'Bride' Tickets Scarce; Runs Until Saturday

A limited number of tickets are still available for the three remaining performances of "The Bartered Bride," being presented this week by the BYU Opera Workshop.

The opera will run through Saturday with performances each night at 8:15 in the Smith auditorium.

Students holding tickets to any performance are urged in case they are unable to use them, to turn them back in for the convenience of someone who might otherwise be unable to attend the opera.

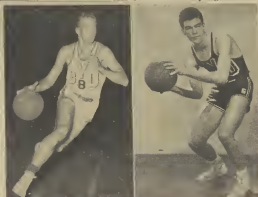

A large cast is headed by such well-known campus singers as Marilyn Oakley, Lou Rita Mattos, Jay Fowler, Brandt Curtis, Virgil Camp, and Lorna Erickson. There is also a large chorus of villagers actors, and chorists.

The opera is directed by Dr. Don L. Earl with Mrs. Shirley Ririe in charge of dances. Barbara Romney designed the original set and Rae Johnson, Carl Martineau, and Randall Buchanan headed the construction crew. Students in charge of the show are Carl Martineau and Randall Buchanan.

Various talent has been crowded into the night's fun, including honoring heroes by Crawford Gates and music by Gus Shield's orchestra. Gale 20-voice girls' chorus will supply a variety of romantic ballads which will be accompanied by the Worsley sisters and the BYTone quintet. This quarter will stage a production number from South Pacific.

Tickets are selling for 50c. Townspeople and students are urged that action in the form of capital is vitally needed. This year can see the erection of the V Ball monument, and if the studentbody supports this drive, BYU's victory bell is homeless. If "dare" you to build it a home!

ANOTHER NATIONAL TITLE—This pair of crew cut basketballers, Harold Christensen and Joe Richey, performed for BYU's NIT champs in 1951. They will be aiming for another title when they start play against Niagara.

Alumni Group Adds $15,000 To Development Program

After only one year of complete operation, the office of Alumni and Public Services, under the direction of executive secretary W. Cleon Skousen, turned over $15,000 to President Ernest L. Wilkinson for the University development fund.

This money represents the fund raising activities of the Alumni Association and most of the cash from 5,000 individual gifts made last year.

PrecisionDrill Team From Nevada Tops Y Bell Fund Drive

A show that turned away over a thousand spectators on a three night stand in Las Vegas last week appears at the fieldhouse Monday, March 9 at 8 p.m.

The Rhythmettes, a precision drill team composed of girls who must meet certain requirements in weight, height, scholarship and enthusiasm, have agreed to perform in aid of "The Y Bell Dare."

Weekend Tilts to Decide Top Tournament Berths For Cougars, Cowboys

by Burl Collyer — UNIVERSE Sports Writer

The National Invitational Tournament and the NCAA playoffs are on tap for Brigham Young and Wyoming for sure, one way or another. It was announced the first of this week by the two schools.

One way is for coach Ev Klumpp's Cowboys to win over Colorado A&M Friday night and be assured of the NCAA playoffs in Corvallis, Ore., March 13 and 14. In that case, the Cougars would head for New York and the NIT after their Thursday and Friday night games with Denver and New Mexico.

Glen Jacoby, Wyoming athletic boss, accepted an invitation to the NIT, replacing Brigham Young in the event that the Wattsen take advantage of a possible Colorado win Friday and enter the NCAA. This allowed the NIT officials to complete pairings without further delay.

If the Aggies do upset the Wyoming club, the conference championship will probably be decided by the flip of a coin or vote of the members. In case of a vote, the Brights would probably get the nod because of their season record and one lopsided victory over Wyoming.

If Ev's had to thrash the Cougars and send the Cats to the NIT, which now seems the more probable of the two alternatives, Niagara will be the Cougars' Monday night opponent. Next game on the slate, if Richey and

STAN WATTS . . . Back to the Garden

Co, get by the New York school, would be top-seeded Seton Hall.

Last time the Y men went to the NIT, they walked through three opponents, including Seton Hall, to gain the mythical national crown. Richey, Harold Christensen, and Boyd Jarman, who were in the Garden in 1951 helped bring back the title would undoubtedly like to get another one for mentor Watts.

Bitton Plans Sale Of Remaining Tickets For Prom

Boyd Bitton, in charge of ticket sales for the Junior Prom, announced final plans today for the selling of the remaining tickets.

According to Mr. Bitton, tickets will be sold today in the Science Building lobby from 12 noon until 3 p.m. On Friday they will be on sale both in the Smith and Science lobbies from 8:30 until 10 a.m., and from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. If any tickets are remaining they will be sold the early part of next week.

coordinator for many of the national activities over the past year.

Besides the $15,000, the Alumni Association secured with the aid of Victor J. Bird a gift of 150 shares of stock with a par value of $150,000. The Provo Chamber of Commerce also donated $2,000 to finance a motion picture about BYU.

Other activities of the association have included the organization of Y alumni in 97 states of the church. The Student Program Bureau has been expanded somewhat, with Jane Thompson acting as adviser. Ten issues, totaling 127,000 copies of the Alumni Magazine were published under the direction of Kenneth J. Pace.

Friday Night Dance

The junior class will sponsor a studentbody dance after the basketball game Friday night in the Social Hall. Admission will be 50 cents per couple or 25 cents per person.

Group Hears Reports Of Students

by Dick Oveson
UNIVERSE Tuesday Editor

Legislative council members heard committee reports for the greater part of their session last Monday night as the traffic committee on the Council-Faculty party, the committee on government re-organization and the Keep Off the Grass committee reported on their investigations.

Traffic committee members reported that an effort is being made to secure the opinion of a competent traffic official concerning a just system of speeding regulations on campus. Russ Mickelson had two reports, giving first the facts concerning the results of his committee on government re-organization and then reported on preparations for a joint Legislative council-faculty party.

Mickelson reported first that the re-organization committee has not as yet established any recommendations, but that the group is hearing various student leaders on facets of student government. Near the end of the meeting the Council voted to act on a recommendation of Claude Thomas to send a wreath to the family of Bill Gallagher, AMS president, whose father passed away recently.

Commerce Seniors Await Interviews

A representative of the W. T. Grant Co. will be here on March 10, 11, to interview seniors in the College of Commerce who are interested in their management training program.

All seniors interested are to contact Mr. Keith Duffin, director of the Placement Bureau, at the Y Press building.

A representative of Sears Roebuck and Co. will also be here on March 17 to interview seniors in the College of Commerce.

Mr. Bilton emphasized the facts that only a limited number of tickets are being sold for this year's two-night affair. This policy is being followed in order that the congestion prevalent in former years may be avoided. Thus, those planning on going should purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

This year's prom, "Elysian Fantasy," under the direction of Wally Hunt, promises to be one of the outstanding social events in BYU history. Combining the world-renowned music of Les Brown with unusual entertainment plans and decorations, the prom committee is scheduling the most elaborate prom on record. Many other special features are being adopted that promise to lend an atmosphere not soon to be forgotten.

Student Assistance Requested To Help Cumorah Presentation

Will the Hill Cumorah pageant be presented this year?

If the missionary personnel, because of the world situation, continues to be reduced, there will be only about 20 missionaries in the Eastern States mission, which presents the pageant annually. This is not half the number necessary.

To remedy the situation, Dr. Harold I. Hansen of the Brigham Young University speech department, and director of the pageant, at the suggestion of Pres. David O. McKay, will take a contingent of 50 students to the Hill Cumorah to help put on the famous presentation Aug. 68.

Those who go will not necessarily have to be returned Eastern States missionaries, or even returned missionaries. There are about 60 Eastern States missionaries on campus but it is estimated that only 20 of them will be able to go back so the remainder will be made up of carefully screened students who desire, and are able to make the trip.

Those who go will be expected to pay their own expenses, and it is hoped that they will be able to arrange their two-week vacation period at that time so that expenses will be lessened. The students will live in the mission quarters for $1. per night, and will help with testimony meetings and other activities of the missionaries at that time.

The group will leave on a chartered bus from Provo on July 23 and the trip will be completed August 5.

Cougars Host Conference Wrestling Tournament

The best wrestlers in the Skyline Conference will be in Provo Friday and Saturday for the championship matches in the BYU fieldhouse.

Wyoming, the champs of last year, are in a shaky position because of the possible team from the Colorado A&M.

Preliminary bouts are set for Friday at 3 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m. The championship matches will be Saturday at 8 p.m. Individual weight classes as well as team titles will be determined in the meet.

As an example of the caliber of wrestling to be displayed, the A&M Rams recently met with Oklahoma, the national champs of last year, and lost by 18-8. Reed Nilsen, Cougar wrestling coach, said, "We're going to see some of the finest wrestling in the country." He advised all fans who like to see genuine wrestling with no fear of "fixed fights" to be on hand for all the matches. Utah, the western division champs, who edged out the Cougars by two points Feb. 24, though not too strong as a team, have plenty of individual talent, with three grapplers standing a good chance for individual honors.

Benny Jordan, 147 pound Cougar co-captain, is the strongest man on the Cat team, though there are several others likely to wrestle the ego of Y fans.

Wrestling is gathering popularity in the Skyline Conference, and with the best league talent coming to Provo, officials predict record crowds.

Prices for the preliminary bouts will be 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for students. Tickets will be $1 for adults for the finals, 50 cents for students and 25 cents for children.

All Sky-line Team In Tuesday's Issue

The big story of the year breaks loose next week when the UNIVERSE sports staffers again stick their necks out and announce their version of the all-conference team. It comes out in Tuesday's tabloid.

Three Foreign Tours Slated By Extension

Three different tours are being planned by the extension department of BYU, according to Dr. H. G. Clark.

Three members of the university faculty have been granted leaves of absence to travel in Europe, while two more will do post doctoral work at other schools. Dr. Sidney B. Sperry, director of Religion, and Eldin Rieks, instructor in Religion, will lead a tour to the holy land during the spring quarter.

Dr. Hugh Nibley, professor of history and religion, and Dr. Antone K. Romney, professor of philosophy of education and guidance, will do post-doctoral work. Dr. Nibley will spend spring quarter and the summer studying manuscripts in their original classical and Semitic languages preparatory for articles he is writing, while Dr. Romney will do advanced graduate work at Stanford University.

Another tour is of Europe, which has been set for June 15 to Sept. 14 under the leadership of J. Reuben Clark III.

The group will tour England, France, Spain, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland and Belgium for 66 days. The cost for each member will be approximately $1200.

They will sail for Leflore, France, on the S. S. Waterman, arriving there June 28. Only accredited students between 18 and 30 may participate. All students interested must file applications before March 15. Applications should be addressed to the BYU extension division. Dr. Clark, director.

Academic credit students may apply for six to nine hours of credit on an individual study program basis, and final approval on each applicant will be given by Mr. Clark following a personal interview. Anyone wishing more information may have full details of the tour by addressing a request to the Extension Division. The last tour is a tour to Mexico from June 8 to June 29. The tour is co-sponsored by the language and the extension departments. Professor Carl M. Gibson of the language department will conduct the tour. Professor Gibson has done extensive traveling in South America and is well versed in Hispanic and Hispano American languages and culture. Cost of the tour will be $350. This amount will include all travel, hotels, fees, tuition and side tours. It also includes those meals specified in the itinerary and at the hotel at Guadalajara. The cost does not include other meals, personal expenses such as amusements, etc.

Applications to the extension division should be accompanied by a deposit of $50. Final payment must be made by May 1, unless other arrangements are made with the extension division. The maximum number who will be accepted for the tour will be thirty-four.

Cats Meet Denver, Lobos In Final Home Contests

Brigham Young's 1953 basketball team winds up their home season this week end with games against Denver and New Mexico. The eyes of local fandom, however, will rest on Fort Collins Friday night where Wyoming's league-leading Cowboys play their last regular-season tilt.

Both Denver, which the Cougars take on Thursday, and Friday's opponent, New Mexico, rest in the lower echelons of the conference. Both have been known to be tough, but the Cats' superior speed and depth and the always-important home-court advantage are expected to tip the scales quite heavily in favor of the home team.

Call it in to Air

If the Brigs win both of these tilts and the Rams unseat Wyoming, a tie for the loop title between the respective crews of Ev Shelton and Stan Watts will result. In that case, conference officials will name one of the other of the teams to represent the loop in the NCAA meet and the other will go to the NIT. It's strictly a case of heads we win, tails we win, too.

Clag Stargen Listed

Bill Strangheim will counter with all-conference candidate Hal Kinnard, Russ Rorucha, Bob Bell, Dennis Steuben and whenever he desires to fill the fifth slot. This presents a potent, formidable team, but Shelton should have the situation under control.

Good Bill, No Field

New Mexico has one of the top teams in the area offensively but as far as defense goes they rank sixth in the conference. The Lobos have done a lot better than pre-season dopsters figured them to, and now sit in a tie for fourth spot in the loop. Top scorer and all-around man on the squad is forward Bill Strangheim. The Lobos have four other men—Spallina, Royball, Black and Nydick, who boast averages of better than 10 points a game.

Tucker Nears Top Scoring Casaba Record

With only one weekend of conference play left, Utah State's all-conference ace Darrell Tucker seems virtually assured of the conference 1953-54 scoring crown.

Tucker and his AC playmates were idle as far as conference games go but managed to lift Gonzaga twice in an extra-curricular affair. Tucker hit 30 points in the two tilts to raise his all-conference average to 15.6. His season mark now stands at 31.3.

Clag, Up, Richy Down

Bill Hall, also of Utah State, remained in second place with a 27.3 average. Richy Downey, too, boosted his average but not enough to hold his position. Bill Sharpe of Wyoming moved into third place on a barrage of foul picks, hitting free throws in the double figures in each of his two weekend games, to boost his average to 27.0 as compared to Richy's 26.8. Sharp got 48 points in the weekend tilts; Richy carried 36.

Matellian Among Leaders

Nick Matellian's 22.9 mark gives BYU two men in the top ten. Ed Anderson, New Mexico, each with 12.7, round out the select circle.

'Mural Cagers in Hot Competition

The NIT and NCAA tournaments are going to have to share honors with the BYUT which started Wednesday evening in the fieldhouse.

The Brigham Young Intramural Basketball Tournament (BYUT) may not have Seta Hall or Indiana on its list but it has such powers as the Wyoming Club, Brickers, and Eightballs competing in the twelve team contest which will decide the grand champion of basketball on campus.

As the paper goes to press the pairings have not been drawn, but the six champions and six runners-up, with one exception, are very much decided, after seven grueling weeks for seventy-six teams in six leagues.

Wyoming Club, defending intramural champ, Brickers, Seta Hall, and the Eightballs were selected as the teams to best. The four seeded teams were chosen from the list by the intramural heads on the basis of records and supposed strength. Mr. David Golden said.

Wyoming Club of the National League shared the honor of being the only unbeaten outfit in the tournament with the Eightballs of the American League and the Brickers in the Social League.

The Rummies clinched the right to be National League runner-up by mutilating the Hawaiian Club 68-30 and the Arizona Club 56-38, the only other teams with less than four losses in the league.

Cinderella nominee for the event is the Torpedos crew from Duke's Mixture League. They ate the once formidable Pacific Coast Trojans that all season, but came through in the home stretch to edge into the driver's seat. The Trojans will be the runner-up squad behind the Torpedos.

The Rockets fired off in the American League finale with two lopsided victories last week to gain the runner-up spot behind the Eightballs.

Has anybody seen Quorum B. Priests? The Cougar League teams seem to have lost sight of 'em. They waited away with the flag in a league which has been unpredictable all season. Wyoming Branch, a second division club almost all the time, broke loose and landed in the runner-up position with four quick victories.

The bruising Brickers and the burly Brickers are the aristocrats representing the Social League. The Brigs continued their devastating splurge with a 67-24 trouncing of the Saxons.

Whoops! Who said that Sevier couldn't be beaten in the Utah League? The Rams made like Wyoming University, assuming the spoliator role with a 33-22 close shave over the mighty Sevier boys.

That wasn't enough. The Rams then turned on second place Uintah

ON THE SIDELINE

Jack Nelson, well-known junior journalism student and Thursday editor of the UNIVERSE sports section, left for his home in Belflower, Calif., to receive medical treatment for a bone infection.

Though Jack was confined to a wheelchair, it didn't hold him down. He attended nearly all school functions, both social and sports affairs. For two years his optimistic smile and ability to talk nearly everyone by first names, made Jack one of the best known students on campus.

While Jack is away Reed Hunter will take his place as sports editor. Reed is a transfer student from the University of Utah, where he was assistant sports editor on The Chronicle.

Collins magazine pointed to Joe Richby as the best player in the Skyline conference and gave him a second string berth on their All-American team.

Selected with Richby on the all-conference squad were Charlie Davis, Montana; Darrell Tucker, Utah State, and a pair from Wyoming, Ron Rivers and Bill Sharpe.

Only one team was named, but honorable mention included Hal Christensen and Nick Matellian.

Cougar basketball fans should plan to get to the Thursday and Friday games on time if they want to see the first quarter. Most of the league knicks, unless for the game, are not going to let late comers find seats until the end of the first quarter.

Victorious Frosh Shoot At Eagles

High riding Cougar Cubs, on defeated since their season's first game against the Cow College freshmen in Logan, finish the season in a pair of tilts with Carbon College this week.

The games will be played Thursday and Friday as grilling injuries to the varsity slashes with Denver and New Mexico.

Bob Bunker, freshmen coach, carries an enviable 5-1 win record, having defeated the Utah Fagboys and Hill Field twice and splitting a pair with USC freshmen.

The starting lineup has not been set yet, but Bill Treu, Calif., Blaine Anderson, former all-state from Jordan, and Doug Snoot and Willard Hirschel should see plenty of action.

Coming through with valuable free shots in the waning seconds, Snoot was the hero in the 38-35 victory over Utah frosh to cap the state title two weeks ago.

Their most impressive game was with Hill Field when they won by the lopsided score of 73-43.

tail Basin and again the dark horse went home with a bale of hay. Sevier is still the champ of the league, but as the paper hits the press the runner-up spot could go to either the Rams or Uintah Basin.

In the tournament which starts Wednesday.

Selective Service Test Heads
Announce March 9 Deadline

National Headquarters of Selective Service today reminded college students that applications for the April 23, 1953 Selective Service Qualification Test must be postmarked not later than midnight March 9.

The deadline is necessary to allow administrators of the test, the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N. J., time to process the applications and assign each applicant to the testing center, of which there are 1,000, requested by the student—or to the closest possible alternative center. This will be the last test given during the current academic year.

Application blanks may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. They do not have to return home to the local board which has jurisdiction over them.

New Regulations

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, has stated on a number of occasions that new regulations, which will substantially tighten the deferment criteria by raising the standards, are in the process of formulation because the limited manpower supply no longer justifies deferment of so many students and because veterans are now returning in sufficient numbers to take the place of college students drafted.

The present criteria for consideration for deferment as a student are either the 70 or 75 better on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or class standing among the male members in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two thirds of the sophomore class or upper three fourths of the junior class. Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they are among the upper half of the male members of their senior class, or they make a score of 75 or better. Students already enrolled in graduate schools may be considered for deferment "so long as they remain in good standing. Presumably, these criteria will be tightened "all up and down the line."

Different Categories

The criteria are guides for the local boards. The local boards are under no compulsion to follow them, but any local board classification is subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within 10 days of the date the local board mails the notice of classification.

General Hershey also has repeatedly stressed that no deferment is an exemption. "A deferment is a delay or postponement," he said, "and in no way cancels the duty of the registrant to meet his obligations. Liability of a college student for service remains until he is 35 years old."

No Compulsion

Many students have been confused in differentiating between the I-S and I-S deferments. The I-S deferment is considered on the basis of class standing or qualification test and is discretionary on the part of the local board.

The I-S deferment, on the other hand, is provided by the law. A college student ordered to report for induction while he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course is entitled to this I-S deferment until he finishes his academic year provided he has not had his induction postponed or been deferred as a student prior to June 15, 1953. He may be given but one such deferment and it is incumbent upon him to notify his local board of his status when he receives the order to report for induction.

Sunday Nite Meeting
To Organize Branch

Reorganization in Campus Branch will highlight activities of the branch conference to be held Sunday under the direction of the stake presidency, according to Scott Speakman, branch president.

The positions of those in the branch who will not be at BYU next year will be filled. Members of the stake presidency and stake high day School, and Sacrament council will be present at Priesthood meeting, Sunday School, and Sacrament meeting. All Campus Branch members are requested to be present.

Missionaries' Needs, Qualifications
Enumerated by LDS Church Authority

by Weston Edwards
UNIVERSE Staff Writer

"What about the missionary?" was the subject of Elder Stagner Richard's talk in Wednesday's devotion.

Elder Richards stated that since the beginning of the Church 85,863 missionaries have been sent throughout the world. He further explained, "Through their work hundreds of thousands of people have been converted. These converts brought new blood, new life into the Church."

Elder Richards especially emphasized the admonition of the Savior, "To lose yourself in the interest of others." He further expanded this admonition to all of us, "It's the most wonderful thing that any of us can do to forget ourselves and think of others."
